i am working on a set of data and I am confused with the use of Chi square table. I get two values in R, one is chi square value and another is p value. Which one should I compare with the table ...

What is the role of p-value in chi square test of difference?

Mathematical details. Under the Wald statistical test, the maximum likelihood estimate $\hat{\theta}$ of the parameter(s) of interest is compared with the proposed value θ_0 , with the assumption that the difference between the two will be approximately normally distributed. Typically the square of the difference is compared to a chi-squared distribution.. Test on a single parameter Issues What is forecast verification? If we take the term forecast to mean a prediction of the future state (of the weather, stock market prices, or whatever), then forecast verification is the process of assessing the quality of a forecast.. The forecast is compared, or verified, against a corresponding observation of what actually occurred, or some good estimate of the true outcome.
