Attachment theory is a psychological model attempting to describe the dynamics of long-term and short-term interpersonal relationships between humans. "Attachment theory is not formulated as a general theory of relationships; it addresses only a specific facet": how human beings respond within relationships when hurt, separated from loved ones, or perceiving a threat.

2.5.. Internalization of attachment interactions and the movement toward autonomy Another important tenet of both classic and modern psychoanalytic theories is that healthy personality development involves a move from a socially dependent state to a maturely autonomous one (Westen, 1998). According to psychodynamic and object relations theorists (e.g., Kohut, 1971, Schafer, 1968), affect ...
