Crowley employs a variety of techniques in Novelty. "The Nightingale Sings at Night" is cast as a simple retelling of the creation myth. Yet at its heart, it owes much to the beast fables and allegorical tales of the Middle Ages. Beast fables were a popular genre well before Chaucer's perfection of the form in the Canterbury Tales (c. 1390).

Hard News Vs. Feature Stories Hard news articles are written so the reader can stop reading at any time, and still come away with the whole story. This is very different from an essay, which presumes that the audience will stick around to the end, and can therefore build to a finish. There is no need to put a "conclusion" on a news story.

Hard News Vs. Feature Stories

Unlike the style you might use in English expository writing, technical science writing is terse, clear cut, and lacking in artistic enhancements. When using information from a source avoid quoting directly. Read the piece, put the article down, and then put the important points into your own words.
